

Daniel Jamieson, Guitar, Violin, Cello, Viola, String Bass

Daniel is a native of Florence, Alabama. He attended Bradshaw High School (later to become Florence High School). He holds a B.S. Degree in Commercial Music from the University of North Alabama and is currently finishing his M.A. in Music Education, also from the University of North Alabama.

He comes from a family with strong musical roots. He began his formal music education in the 3rd grade on piano. He played saxophone and guitar through high school. In college, he learned to play the cello. He has also had extensive experience in choirs throughout childhood, high school and college. After graduating college, he realized that he was being called to music education.

Shortly thereafter he took the post of orchestra director with Florence City Schools.

He is married and has two children, Jonah and Maddie.
